

Best Interests Assessment Form for the Purposes of Implementing the Dublin Regulation

Informed Consent/Assent

The country that will examine your asylum request is determined through a process established in a law called the «Dublin Regulation».

According to this law, only one country is responsible for examining your request. This law requires us to establish whether Greece is responsible for examining your application or whether another country is responsible – we call this the «Dublin procedure».

The Dublin procedure will not concern your reason for applying for asylum. It will only deal with the question of which country is responsible for making a decision on your application for asylum.

The Dublin system can help you if you are unaccompanied by a parent when you apply for protection. If your parents, siblings or relatives live in one of the Dublin Countries and we manage to find them, we will try to bring you together in the country where your parents or relatives are present. That country will then be responsible for examining your request for protection.

During this procedure, we will always act in your best interests and we will always take your views into account – for example, as to whether you would like to be reunited with a relative or would prefer not to do so. We will never send you to a country where you do not wish to go.
